

FROM ACROSS THE POND

We're thrilled to hear Chelsea Green boutique Fleur B is now stocking US designer Ulla Johnson. Her very cool and understated monochrome designs normally seen at Barneys in New York are tailored beautifully and have attracted the likes of Clare Danes and Jennifer Connelly. Now, it's our turn. Fleur B, 8 Elystan Street, SW3, 020 7225 3050; fleurb.co.uk

FASHION NOTES

Stylist Violet Naylor-Leyland seeks out Valentine vesture for you... and your man

HIS N' HERS

Fashion and art fusion, Each Other, launches in the UK this month, with a strong emphasis on androgyny (the men's range fit women, the women's range fit men). Confused? That's modern art for you... Now available at Harrods

VALENTINE ROMP

Perhaps Irish-born designer Orla Keily could be accused of introducing us to 'perky chic'. Well, this delightful silk romper, certainly does the trick in brightening up our Winter wardrobe. For that long-legged 60s look, seek out a pair of grey patterned tights and some pumps or plimsolls or team with high denier black hosiery and heels for your hot date. £336, Orla Keily, 207 King's Road, SW3, 020 7351 2644, orlakeily.com

MONOGRAM HIS ASS!

Your turn this year? We've got it - or rather him - covered. Well, lingerie sirens Damaris, designers of exquisitely pretty women's range Mimi Holliday, have. Now doing men's line Max Holliday, they're also offering a same day monogramming service for Valentine's day, costing just £5.95 per letter when you buy a pair of £55 contrasting Liberty-print cotton boxers. Available at Harrods, 87-135 Brompton Rd, SW1, 020 7730 1234; harrods.com

BOUTIQUE-IN-BRIEF

ROSS X BUTE, 328 KING'S ROAD

THE IDEA: Luxury basics with the 'lux' being in the detail, ROSS X BUTE do slinky, feminine yet sophisticated blouses, shirt dresses and knits, in contrasting fabrics and colours that make a freshening edition to any tired February work wardrobe.

THE USP:

It's all in the feel and fall of the delectable fabrics they use such as crepe du chine, cashmere, lace and alpaca. Each style comes in equally tantalising yet understated colour waves including gunmetal grey, midnight blue, charcoal black and cream. Not only are these soft shades flattering for most skin tones but they style easily with any wardrobe.

THE BUY:

Team this midnight blue crepe du chine and lace blouse, £186 (left), with your favourite smart jeans or this season's pencil skirt and you will undoubtedly look the business. 328 King's Road, SW3, 020 376 3467; rossandbute.com
